WILL TAKE TO DEEP WATER.

Rojestvensky Expected to Turn Eastward Between the Philippines and Formosa—Americans May Have Trouble.

Thurs. May 22.—Much attention is given here to Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky's probable passage into the Pacific north of the Island of Luzon and the suggestion of the Russians to rendezvous at the Island of Hainan will give the American authorities in the Philippines the same difficulties in preserving remote points against the incursions of Admiral Rojestvensky that the French authorities experienced in the waters of Indo-China.

TAFT GOES ON A TRIP.

Winnipeg, May 23.—William H. Taft, U. S. Secretary of War, with a party of senators and representatives, will take a trip to the Philippine Islands, and in order to catch a glimpse of Western Canada, will avail themselves of the trans-Pacific service of the C. P. R. by travelling from North Portal to Vancouver. The party will leave St. Paul on May 26, on a special, and will include all the leading Republican members of Congress and the influential member for Minnesota. In view of the approaching naval battle in the Pacific a significance attaches to the visit, although nothing official has so far emanated from Washington. There is an idea that Taft's visit, made under the guise of a holiday excursion, is closely connected with the presence of bellicose fleets in the waters north of the group of islands surrendered to the States by Spain, and which is only divided by the Ballintang channel from Formosa, where the fleet of Admiral Togo is supposed to be waiting the enemy.

[Hansard Report, May 15.]

THE LAND QUESTION.

Mr. Oliver.—This question has been gone over already in the House since the bill came up, and I do not know that anything new requiring special attention has been brought before the House on this occasion. The contention, as I understand it, is that the province is the better authority for the administration of the land. That contention has already been placed before the House, and in opposition to it has been placed the contention that the Dominion is the better authority for controlling these lands. There is no question involved as to the respective business ability of the people of the Territories and of the Dominion. There is no question as to the respective honesty of administration on the part of the territorial or provincial government as compared with that of the Dominion. I presume there are honest men in the Territories as well as in other parts of the Dominion and that the honest men are fairly representative of the territorial or provincial governments.

Mr. R. L. Borden—I only mentioned that because one gentleman from the Territories pointed out a danger from that source which I did not think existed more than would exist here.

DOMINION INTERESTED IN SECURING SETTLERS.

Mr. Oliver—Probably not. I can only repeat what I said before that the Dominion government under the necessities of the case, under our system of confederation, necessarily has a greater interest in securing the establishment of a settler upon land in the Northwest than the provincial government has. As I understand it the Dominion revenue is principally derived from customs and excise, and each individual in the country contributes on an average about $80 or $10 per year for a family of five. I do not know that these figures are exactly correct, but they will do for the purpose of comparison. When you consider the various expenditures of those settled on lands in the Northwest as compared with the dwellers in eastern cities, I think it will be admitted that a family in the Northwest Territories is worth a great deal more than $40 per year to the Dominion revenue. I would be inclined to think that such a settler's family established on their land would be worth perhaps $100 per year instead of $40. To the provincial revenue they are worth absolutely nothing; the province does not levy direct tax upon these settlers.

INCREASED POPULATION MEANS INCREASED PROVINCIAL BURDENS.

It is true that a school district or a local improvement district may be organized, and the settlers may contribute to them by direct taxation, but under the system that has prevailed so far, the establishment of a school district or a local improvement district does not mean relief to the provincial treasury. Every group of settlers coming into the Territories may be taken to mean the establishment of a new school district and local improvement district which in turn means a direct charge upon the provincial government just as it means a direct contribution to the Dominion treasury.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT CANNOT AFFORD TO CARRY ON IMMIGRATION POLICY.

The local government is consequently not in the same position to derive revenue from the influx of settlers. The Dominion government for number of years has expended about a million dollars to secure an influx of immigrants, and no provincial government would be in a position to make such an expenditure because there is no source from which according to our system of confederation, the provincial government could acquire a compensating amount in revenue. The influx of settlers means increased revenue to the Dominion, irrespective of the value of lands. The Dominion government can well afford to spend large sums in attracting the attention of prospective immigrants, and in providing for the security of life and property throughout these Territories, which has a very important bearing upon the question of immigration, and which at present entails an expenditure of about half a million dollars per year. As a pure matter of business, as the plainest and simplest business transaction, if we expect to have inducements held out to people to settle on our vacant lands, and if we expect to have law and order maintained, there is no question but that we have better grounds for looking to the Dominion authorities than to the provincial authorities. If we do not reach that conclusion by any other process we might very well reach it by looking at the conditions in the various provinces.

OTHER PROVINCES DO NOT UNDERTAKE IMMIGRATION BUSINESS.

British Columbia has a very large land area which is under the control and administration of the province, but so far as I know, within recent years British Columbia has not spent a dollar in attracting immigration to that province. The province of Ontario has a vast area of vacant land, and I do not know that Ontario has spent a dollar in attracting immigrants within recent years. The same may be said of Quebec, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick which own their lands. The reason for this is that the provinces cannot afford to do so; there is not enough in it for these provincial governments. The interests of the entire Dominion depend upon the successful filling up of these prairies with desirable settlers and neither the Dominion nor any interest in the Dominion can afford to place the responsibility in hands other than those best fitted by circumstances to discharge that responsibility. It is not by reason of any greater business ability or any greater honesty, but because the Dominion gets $10 revenue per family while the provincial government is billed with $20 say, annually of additional expense for each family. Another feature of the case is this. The leader of the opposition has said, and said truly that the influx of settlers increases the value of the land and that the increased value of the land is of benefit to the province. But, we cannot have an influx of settlers unless we take means to secure it, and the success of immigration policy is due mainly to the fact that the settlers have been able to get free lands. We send immigration agents to different parts of the world; we supply them with literature and they give information to the best of their ability, and there are no doubt good results from these.

FREE LAND THE REAL ATTRACTION.

These factors are a consideration in securing immigration, but the main consideration is the free grant of land. It is the Dominion which can afford to give the land, and not the province. The increase in the value of the land which benefits the province and the people already in it, comes from the general influx of immigrants which is attracted not by the lands which directly receive the increase of value, but by reason of the land which is given away. The tendency of the provincial government naturally would be to direct settlement so as to increase the value of the land already occupied, just as the tendency of the Dominion government is to secure settlers on the lands which they have to give away. The process of increasing the value of lands can be carried on independently to a limited degree, but as any man who has ever lived in that country must know, it is the spread of settlement over the still vacant areas that is the main cause of the increase of land value. If for any reason attention is withdrawn from this effort to spread settlers over the unoccupied territory, the tendency to increase in the value of land now occupied would be retarded to the extent to which the effort was relaxed.

SATISFACTORY RESULTS OF THE PAST.

I think the experience of the past few years has shown clearly, in the first place, that the results in regard to the settlement of the lands in the Territories have been satisfactory. Those results in the whole Dominion have been so very definite and so very satisfactory, that we cannot afford—it would not be sound public policy—to change a system which has resulted so satisfactorily, in the face of the experience which we have in regard to the provinces which have the ownership of their lands. It may be said, and it is quite true, that a government editing law in Ottawa might at some future time reverse the present policy of free lands in the Territories. If that were done, it would reverse the argument which I have made here today. Certainly the government that was in power until 1896 did not have the policy of the land for the people which has prevailed since; but I believe that the record of this country through the experience of the past few years, have arrived at a definite understanding that the policy of free lands is the policy for the well-being of this Dominion, and I believe that even a change of government would bring about a change of that policy. The people of the Dominion at large have become so well aware of the benefits resulting from the rapid settlement of the Northwest through the giving of its lands free to settlers, that I cannot imagine any Dominion government reversing that policy. But a provincial government cramped for money, as all our provincial governments are, deriving no direct revenue from the influx of settlement, but carrying an increased burden by reason of every ship load of immigrants that arrive, would be likely to adopt a policy of administration of the lands for revenue, which would be injurious to the ultimate end of the province itself, and still more to the whole Dominion.

ONTARIO SERVICE NOT SUCCESSFUL.

FUL.

Mr. Sprague—The experience of the province of Ontario is the very reverse of that. In that province the land is not only sold at a very small figure, at one time as low as twenty cents an acre, but there are free grants as well.

Mr. Oliver—That was not the point I raised. The point was that the government of Ontario has not made expenditures for the purpose of promoting immigration in order to settle up those lands.

Mr. Ingram—Yes, it has an agent at Liverpool now, and has had for years.

Mr. Oliver—Even if the honorable gentleman held that the province of Ontario has an immigration service, the facts show that that service does not produce the results that have been produced by the Dominion service, and I take for granted that there is some reason for that inherent in the case, and not in any lack of desire on the part of the government to secure the settlement of the lands. It cannot afford to go to the expense that the Dominion government can.

WILDEST DISORDER

IN BRITISH HOUSE OF COMMONS

Speaker for the First Time Exercised
His Right to Adjourn the Assembly to Restore Order.

London, May 22.—The sitting of the House tonight was marked by scenes of the wildest disorder growing out of a motion by Sir Henry Campbell Bannerman to adjourn in order that he might discuss the charge against Premier Balfour of having violated his pledge not to deal with the subject of colonial preference without appealing to the country. Alfred Littleton, Secretary of State for the colonies was to reply to the Liberal Leader but the Opposition shouted down his every attempt to speak even after the Premier had demanded a hearing for the Secretary. Finally the speaker, after he had exhausted every effort to quell the turbulence, put into force for the first time the rule empowering him to adjourn the House in case of grave disorder.

VICTORIA DAY

WILL BE FITTINGLY CELEBRATED.

Crowds From Strathcona and Edmonton will Attend the Celebration at the Fort.

Should the weather prove fine, a very large number of Edmonton and Strathcona people will go down to attend the Victoria Day celebration at Fort Saskatchewan tomorrow. Nearly every ferry-boat in the city is engaged, many busses will make the trip, and scores will go by private conveyance. The attendance from other parts of the country will doubtless be in proportion and the Fort will see one of the crowds of its history. There is no counter attraction in the district, the other towns having avoided entering the field after the Fort people had decided to celebrate.

The program gotten out promises a good day's sport to those who go down. The Strathcona brass band will be in attendance and the following program of sports will be pulled off.

9 a.m. Calkhumidan procession.
10 a.m.—Lacrosse match, Edmonton vs. Strathcona, purse $50.

Several horses from the city will compete in the speeding events. The struggle for lacrosse honors will be between Strathcona and Edmonton and the local team will try conclusions with the baseball nine of the Fort for the $75 purse.

The city lacrosse team will line up for the game as follows:—Goal, Harper (Morris) cover, McCracken 1st defence, Glass 2nd defence, Hughes 3rd defence, Fawcett, centre, Thom; 3rd home, Walsh; 2nd home, McQueen; 1st home, west; outside, Harris; inside, Maloney.

Will Save the Ships.

Advices from Japan state that work on the Varig, which is being raised at Chemulpo, is about complete. It was expected she would be floated at high tide May 28, and will be made ready at once so that Togo may be given an additional cruiser. A small warship, sunk inside the dock at Port Arthur, is also being recovered and can be used almost immediately. The work of refloating the vessels at Port Arthur was to be commenced May 15. The contractor reported to Tokyo good prospects of saving the ship. The Varig was very slightly damaged; no material injury being done below the water line.

LIBERALS WILL HOLD CONVENTION.

At a mass meeting of the electors held at Riviere Qui Barre on the 20th inst., the following resolution was moved and adopted:

"That whereas the boundaries of the St. Albert electoral district are now definitely known, and whereas the best interests of this district will be served by calling a Liberal convention for the purpose of selecting a candidate for the new provincial legislature of Alberta;

"Therefore, be it resolved that this meeting resolve itself into a committee for the purpose of calling a Liberal convention at such time and place as may here be decided upon;

"And further, be it resolved that this convention be called and conducted in the following manner:

"1st. That the secretary and chairman of such committee shall mail to the postmaster of each polling division at least ten days previous to such convention a notice of time and place where said convention shall be held;

GILPIN-BIRCH LAKE.

May 20th—A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
Juno. Haire Birch Lake on Wednesday, May 10th, when Miss Lottie Haire and Mr. Howard Empey were united in marriage. Rev. A. B. Argue of Vegreville performed the ceremony.
The bride was becomingly dressed in white and the beautiful bouquet of spring pansies of various colors that she wore were suitable to the occasion. The happy couple were the recipients of a number of valuable presents.

The showers of snow and rain in Birch Lake vicinity are causing the grain to make a good start.

Rev. W. L. Bradley is attending district meeting at Fort Saskatchewan
Mr. Thompson and Mr. Haire are supplying in his absence.

A considerable number of new settlers have recently moved in.

Y.M.C.A. CONCERT.

The social in the Presbyterian church lecture room last evening was well attended and of a very pleasing character. Besides a good musical program, there was ice cream and cake, and plenty of sociable intercourse. Rev. Dr. McQueen was chairman, and the Rev. Mr. McDonald gave a short but pointed address on the needs of a Y.M.C.A. equipment in Edmonton. Miss Webster gave one of her best solos; the Harmony Vocal Quartette contributed a number, responding to an encore with much feeling and expression. A young stranger from England, Mr.
Storey, gave a cornet solo in good style, and Mr. McLeod gave a vocal solo. Mr. Barford and Mrs. Walker played the accompaniments. The string quartette from the S. S. orchestra, gave several pleasing numbers, and the proceedings closed with the national anthem.

The movement for raising funds for the new Y. M. C. A. building is progressing very favorably.
